Patient Education Handout

Skin Care Add-On · KORB Health Group · For Patient Reference

This handout is for educational reference only. It is not medical advice. Always follow your prescription label and your KORB provider's guidance. If your label differs from anything here, follow your label and contact KORB.

What You May Be Prescribed

Cream	Best suited for	How to apply
Tretinoin	Acne, oily skin, scarring, and dark spots	A pea-sized amount once daily
Estriol	Dry skin, fine lines, elasticity, and spots	One click once daily
Combo cream	A broader approach combining several active ingredients	One click once daily

All three are applied once daily. Your provider selects which one fits your skin and your goals, and may start you at a lower strength.

How to Apply

- Wash your face and let it dry completely first. Applying to damp skin increases irritation.
- Use only the amount described. More does not work faster and will irritate your skin.
- Apply at night unless your provider tells you otherwise.
- Avoid the corners of your nose, your eyes, and your lips.
- Wash your hands afterward.
- Follow with a plain moisturizer if your skin feels tight or dry.

These creams make your skin more sensitive to the sun. Use sunscreen daily, even in winter and on overcast days. Without it you are more likely to burn, and sun exposure will work directly against the spots and discolouration you are treating.

What to Expect

Skin often looks slightly worse before it looks better. Dryness, flaking, and mild redness in the first few weeks are expected as your skin adjusts. Acne can briefly flare as blocked pores clear.

If irritation is uncomfortable, tell your provider. Often the answer is to use it every other night for a while rather than stopping altogether. Most people see steady improvement over six to twelve weeks.

Side Effects

What you may notice	What to do
Dryness, flaking, or peeling	Expected early on. Moisturize and tell your provider if severe.
Redness or a mild stinging on application	Common at first. Should settle within a few weeks.
A short-lived acne flare	Common as pores clear. Give it a few weeks.
Sunburn more easily than usual	Use sunscreen daily. This is expected with these creams.
Breast tenderness or unexpected bleeding (estriol)	Estriol contains a hormone. Contact KORB if this happens.

Tell your provider if you are pregnant, trying to conceive, or breastfeeding. Tretinoin is not used in pregnancy. Estriol contains a hormone, so mention it if you already take hormone therapy through another KORB program so your full plan can be reviewed together.

Key Reminders

- Apply once daily to clean, completely dry skin.
- A pea-sized amount is enough. More causes irritation without better results.
- Wear sunscreen every day.
- Expect dryness and a possible flare in the first few weeks.
- If irritation is too much, ask about every-other-night use rather than stopping.
- Tell your provider about pregnancy plans or other hormone therapy.
